SUBJECT: License Termination Request, Lumondi Inc., Materials License No. 29-23921-01

030-36786

Mr. Courtemanche:

Lumondi, Inc. (Lumondi) requests to terminate our radioactive materials license (RML) No. 29-23921-01, currently in Amendment 1. This RML authorizes the storage of finished timepieces containing sealed gaseous tritium light sources (GTLS) for distribution to persons exempt under Exempt Distribution License (EDL) No. 29-23921-02E. The current licensee address is 81 Ruckman Road, Closter, NJ 07624.

As of December 31, 2006, all licensed timepieces have been distributed from that address and all principal licensed activities have ceased (i.e., all licensed timepieces are gone from the facility and no more have been received.) License-related records show the following:

- Only finished timepieces were received at the facility.
- All inspected timepieces were found to be in good order with respect to all GTLSs at full brightness.
- There were no indications of any GTLS leakage from timepieces at the facility.
- None of the distributed timepieces that were stored under this RML were returned by recipients due to a broken/dark GTLS.

Based on the above information, as well as the knowledge that any leaking GTLS in an intact timepiece would release tritium into the immediate environment only in gaseous form, Lumondi believes that tritium contamination surveys as a condition of license termination would be unnecessary.

Lumondi is in the process of relocating our licensed distribution program to 2301 Kerner Blvd Suite A, San Rafael, California 94901. We have applied for an RML to the California Department of Health Services, Radiologic Health Branch (DHS-RHB); that application has been assigned Docket No. 121806-7596. We anticipate that an RML will be issued to us by DHS-RHB within the next 30 days.

NMSS/RGNI MATERIALS-002

An amendment request has been sent to NRC Headquarters to make the applicable changes in our EDL No. 29-23921-02E in anticipation of terminating NRC RML No. 29-23921-01 and issuance of a possession RML by DHS-RHB. Once issued, this DHS-RHB RML is expected to be on file with NRC Headquarters (as a component of our EDL records) and can be submitted to your office upon request. All applicable licensed program records from the NJ-based RML No. 29-23921-01 and EDL No. 29-23921-02E are currently being maintained at 2301 Kerner Blvd Suite A, San Rafael, California 94901, and will be maintained as part of future licensed program records. Upon request, Lumondi can provide license-related records, including inventory records showing the balance of timepieces received and distributed from the Closter, NJ licensed facility.

As implied above, no licensed timepieces have been received, possessed, or distributed by Lumondi since December 31, 2006. Furthermore, none will be received, possessed, or distributed by Lumondi until the full possession and distribution licensed program is in place.
